

Title information

A Celebration of Anglo-Scottish Footballers

By Robert Marshall and David Stuart

Key features

- Celebrates the positive impact Scottish footballers have made at English league clubs over the past eight decades
- Anglo-Scots were ubiquitous throughout the 20th century and still make their presence felt in the multi-national new millennium albeit in smaller numbers
- Triumphs involving Scots include a breakthrough in Europe in the 1963 Cup Winners' Cup then notable periods of dominance in Europe
- Also celebrates long-serving and sometimes idiosyncratic cult heroes, plus the contribution Scots women players are now making in England
- Evocative images from the authors' own collections of football trading cards, match programmes and magazines
- Publicity campaign planned including radio, newspapers, websites, podcasts and magazines

Description

Scottish football authors David Stuart and Robert Marshall cross the border to salute the contributions and successes of their fellow countrymen and women who have displayed their skills in the English football leagues – from the end of the Second World War to the present day. They take a celebratory look at great Scots – Law, Mackay, Bremner, Dalglish, Gemmill, Strachan, McAllister and others – who have played their part in era-defining teams crafted by the likes of Bill Nicholson, Don Revie, Brian Clough and Bob Paisley, plus Scots managers Matt Busby, Bill Shankly and Alex Ferguson. As well as celebrating the top-notchers, the book pays tribute to various lesser lights – Caledonian cult heroes who've been immortalised in England's green and pleasant land, including Jim McNichol (Torquay United), Willie Carr (Coventry City) and Ted MacDougall (Bournemouth). These riveting tales of Anglo-Scottish players are brought to life by stunning colour images of trading cards, matchday programmes and magazines.

Details

Publication: 16 June 2025
Price: £25.00
ISBN 13: 9781801509534
Format: 240mm x 160mm
Binding: Hardback
Extent: 288 pages
Category: Football

Trade Orders to:

Macmillan Distribution (MDL),
Cromwell Place, International Business Park,
Lime Tree Way, Basingstoke, Hampshire RG24 8YJ

Telephone: 01256 302692
Email: orders@macmillan.co.uk