Description

Tottenham Hotspur in the 1980s was an iconic team made up of legends who were cup winners, both domestically and in Europe. True to the club's DNA, they didn't just win – they won in style. And even when they lost, Spurs continued to entertain with the likes of Waddle, Gascoigne and Lineker lighting up the pitch. English football endured its darkest hour in the 1980s, with hooliganism rife and stadiums crumbling, but it recovered, paving the way for the Premier League and the revolution of the 1990s. What was Spurs' role in this? Hot Shot Tottenham guides you through a decade of glory nights, near misses and boardroom upheaval, with exclusive interviews from players such as Steve Perryman, Clive Allen, Tony Parks, Terry Gibson, Guy Butters and Vinny Samways, plus the memories of fans who lived through it.
