Scottish Football

Souvenirs from the Golden Years – 1946 to 1986

By David Stuart and Robert Marshall

Key features

- Season-by-season review of Scottish football's major competitions with winners as diverse as Clyde, Dunfermline Athletic, East Fife and Partick Thistle, plus the usual suspects
- Celebrates the feats achieved by Scottish clubs in European tournaments when the likes of Barcelona, Bayern Munchen, Hamburger SV, Juventus and Real Madrid all came to Scotland and left with their tail between their legs
- Looks back on short-lived but memorable competitions such as the Drybrough Cup, Texaco Cup and Anglo-Scottish Cup – when St Mirren FC were the best of British!
- A gallimaufry that features five-a-side football, television, terracing, player of the year awards and seaside towns
- Publicity campaign planned including radio, newspapers, websites, podcasts and magazines

Description

Scottish Football: Souvenirs from the Golden Years – 1946 to 1986 takes a nostalgic look at Scottish football and mementoes from four decades when the game was at its (almost) egalitarian and entertaining best. It was a period with a wide spread of trophy winners: eight different league champions, 14 clubs sharing the two main domestic cup competitions, plus trophy successes in Europe for Celtic, Rangers and Aberdeen, and semi-final near-misses for Dundee, Dundee United, Dunfermline Athletic, Hibs and Kilmarnock. This fascinating book also spotlights the British Championship, the Summer, Drybrough and Texaco Cups plus a host of cult heroes, lost stadia – and Quiz Ball. Alongside this colourful history are collectable treasures. It was a time when programmes were succinct sought-after souvenirs and not bloated corporate catalogues, when trading cards were useful and informative. Annuals, magazines and club handbooks also added to our wisdom. We'll never see an era like '46 to '86 again, so here's your chance to savour it once more.
